Popular Local Indie Band Motopony to Perform in Kirkland on September 25th

KIRKLAND, Wash. – Kirkland Performance Center (KPC) is excited to announce indie band favorites Motopony and their opener Fauna Shade will be taking the stage for two electrifying performances on Friday, September 25th at 8:00pm.

Motopony has been gaining popularity in the Seattle music community for some time, and has evolved through a variety of permutations, into its current form as an expansive sextet whose raw-nerved mix of vivid lyrical explorations, inventive sonic textures and hard-rocking melodic punch mark it as a singularly potent musical force. After performing at Bumbershoot in early September, they come to KPC for an intimate show and will perform songs from their debut LP and newest release "Welcome You", as well as some unreleased material.

Opening for Motopony, Fauna Shade, a local, Seattle based indie rock band with guitars that alternate between jaunty strolls and rippling reverb, feeling like rolling waves of drug-induced color. Lead singer Scotty Smith assembled drummer Richie Owen and bassist Derek Johnston to form Fauna Shade in 2013, and now they'll release their debut LP, Baton Rouge, on April 28th.

Select fall show details are listed here. For a complete list of shows from the entire season, visit www.kpcenter.org. Tickets are available online, over the phone at (425) 893-9900, or at the KPC Box Office Noon – 6pm Tue- Sat and until curtain on show days. The Box Office is located at 350 Kirkland Ave., Kirkland WA, 98033.
